SUPERVISORS IN SESSION ON MONDAY

GRIST OF ROUTINE BUSINESS IS GROUND OUT BY COUNTY LAW-
MAKERS AT REGULAR MEETING AT COUNTY SEAT.

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday.

On motion of Hickey, seconded by Mrs. Brown, permission was granted the Bear Gulch Water Company to excavate along certain streets and roads in the Third township for the purpose of laying water mains thereon.

Attorney Lee T. Ross of Redwood City presented to the board a map of Tract C, Selby Subdivision, at Atherton, which map Ross explained had been approved by the city engineer and the city board of trustees of Redwood in compliance with the law.

A petition of intervention on behalf of San Mateo county in the matter of the fight being waged by the city of South San Francisco against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for lower terminal rates, was presented by District Attorney Swart, and after being signed by the members of the board was ordered sent to the Railroad Commission, before whom a hearing in the matter is now being held.

A communication was received from Attorney Garret McEnerney of San Francisco, representing the archbishop of San Francisco, in which protest was made against including Holy Cross Cemetery at Colma in the new fire district recently formed in the unincorporated town of Colma.

District Attorney Swart, to whom the question of the legality of the proceedings had been referred at a previous meeting, gave a verbal opinion, in which he stated that the law provides that upon the filing of a petition by a certain number of persons of an incorporated town or village, the three fire commissioners, who shall supervisors of a county must appoint have the power to fix and establish the boundaries of the district.

As to the question of the territory to be included in the district, which had been raised at the last meeting of the board, the district attorney said he did not believe this was a matter that lay with the supervisors but with the people or property owners of the district. Swart further stated that he believed that the fire commissioners would have to be reasonable in the amount of territory they would include in the proposed fire district. Swart said he would look into the proceedings in the matter further and see that all the provisions of the law had been completed within the formation of the district.

Chairman MacBain reported to the board that he had received a letter from Mrs. J. Leroy Nichols of Menlo Park, asking him to have a large tree at the corner of Middlefield road and Oak avenue, removed. He sent some men to comply with the request, he explained, but the latter were stopped from doing the work by Mrs. Joseph Donohoe, who owns property at the corner of the two thoroughfares.

Mrs. Nash, the clerk of the board, was directed to write Mrs. Nickel and inform her that the matter had been taken up by the board and suggest to her that she and Mrs. Donohoe endeavor to settle the dispute.

A communication was received from E. S. Heller of Atherton, in which he stated that a number of the residents of that place were desirous of having a traffic officer stationed at the corner of the state highway and Atherton avenue on Sundays only during the summer months and were willing to pay the county the amount necessary for the salary of such an officer, as well as the additional amount required for insurance under the "Workingman's Compensation Act."

On motion of Hickey, seconded by Thompson, the matter was ordered referred to Chairman MacBain.

Harold E. Harms spent the last week in this city visiting his uncle, C. E. Stahl. Mr. Harms recently returned from South America.

LOCAL POST ENDORSES ANTI-SLACKER MOVE

Bernard McCaffery Post at Regular Meeting Passes Resolution
Scoring Call Editorial.

In company with many other American Legion posts of the country, Bernard McCaffery Post of South San Francisco has passed a resolution condemning the San Francisco Call for its editorial of August 2d, in which it advocates the dismissal of the prosecutions against draft evaders.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, An editorial captioned 'War Department Militarism,' espousing principles and views diametrically opposed to the tenets and precepts of the American Legion, was published in the San Francisco Call and Post in the issue of Monday, August 2, 1920, stating:

"That relentless pursuit of so-called deserters after the emergency is past is a thing wholly Prussian. . . . Some were doubtless conscientious objectors, who ought to have been exempt. For the punishment of these men even in time of war there is nothing to be said. A man who sincerely believes that all wars are wrong commits no crime when he refuses to let the government coerce him into taking part in one," and,

"Whereas, Franklin D'Olier, our national commander, now visiting California on a tour of inspection, has issued a statement in the name of the American Legion denouncing in strong language the sentiments embodied in the editorial published by the San Francisco Call and Post; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That Bernard McCaffery Post of the American Legion hereby condemns and most vigorously denounces this un-American and unpatriotic sentiment as being most heartily out of favor with said expression of its principles on the part of the San Francisco Call and Post; and be it further

"Resolved, That copies of this herein contained resolution be furnished to the daily papers, to all other posts of the American Legion in California and local American Legion publications, and that the delegates of Bernard McCaffery Post to the state convention be instructed to urge this matter before the delegates assembled at San Diego."

The matter is to be brought before the San Diego convention for drastic action.

TRUSTEES TO SIT AS BOARD OF EQUALIZATION MONDAY

The city trustees will sit as a board of equalization again for a short time Monday evening. The members met in the same capacity: last Monday morning, but no protests against city taxes were received. In order to give everybody every possible chance to lodge a protest on assessments if they so desire, the board has decided to hear such protests Monday night at 7:30, preceding the regular meeting at the city hall.

PAINT MAGNATE'S SON VERY ILL IN VIENNA

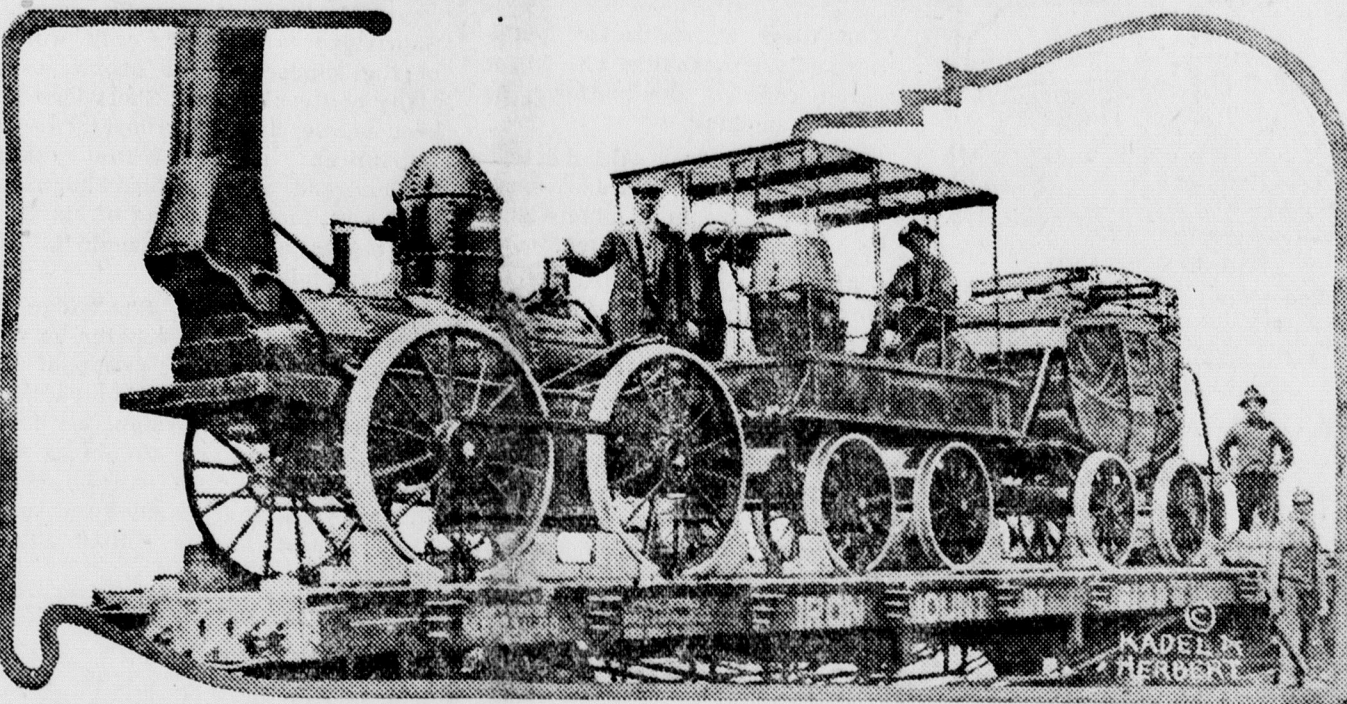

The news dispatches early this week carried the information that William P. Fuller Jr., son of W. P. Fuller, head of the great Fuller paint company, whose main plant is in this city, was very ill in Vienna.

Young Fuller has been at the head of the Poland food administration and was actively engaged in that capacity when stricken by a nervous breakdown just a few days ago. His wife is at his bedside. Their two children are in Paris.

ASSEMBLYMAN EKSWARD CALLS ON FRIENDS IN NORTH END

Assemblyman Frank L. Eksward of San Mateo was visiting friends in the north end of the county the fore part of the week, and dropped into the editor's office. Mr. Eksward is now out for re-election to the assembly and will have no opposition. As he has already served two terms in the legislature, the fact that nobody has cared to oppose him would indicate that his services have been very satisfactory. He is a legislator of much experience and is in a position to do a great deal of good at the state capitol for his constituents.

SEQUOIA DISTRICT VOTES LAND PURCHASE

High School at County Seat After More Land for New Building.

The people of Redwood City and the entire district of the Sequoia union high school, which is located at the county seat, are voting today on a proposition to buy Pissis Park in Redwood City as a location for a new high school building. The present building of the Sequoia school is providing inadequate to properly care for the large attendance of pupils and it is proposed to build a new school building. With that end in view the residents of the district are voting on the purchase of the beautiful Pissis Park of forty acres in Redwood City as a site. The park is offered for $80,000.

Opposed to the proposition named there is a well-defined movement to annex Sequoia union high school district to the Palo Alto district. The support of the latter movement seems to emanate largely from Palo Alto interests.

If the proposition to purchase more ground for a new building fails, the Sequoia district will find itself face to face with the necessity of spending a large sum in erecting an addition to its present building, the grounds around which are very restricted, offering inadequate room for proper expansion.

As we go to press there seems a strong indication that the purchase of the park will be given the stamp of approval by the voters of the district. If it does, the park will be purchased immediately and the new building erected, probably next year.

OFFICERS NOTIFIED THAT LEPER HAS MADE ESCAPE

Health and police officers throughout San Mateo county have been notified to keep strict lookout for L. Raygosa, a leper, escaped from the Monterey county hospital, Salinas, August 1st. The man is said to have headed north. He is a Mexican, 25 years old, about 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weighs about 130 pounds. He is of sallow complexion and when he escaped was wearing blue overalls.

NATIONAL Y. M. C. A. SECTY TALKS AT INDUSTRIAL CLUB

C. C. Robinson, national secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for work among the boys, was in South San Francisco Monday and gave a talk to a number of the business men of the town at the Industrial Club at noon. Mr. Robinson is a man of broad experience in his line of work and gave an excellent talk. All who heard him were impressed with his knowledge of his subject and with his clear way of expressing his ideas. Mr. Robinson compared the boy in his teens to a vase in a plastic condition in the potter's hands. Like the vase, his character has possibilities of development into a thing of grace and usefulness, but is easily twisted or warped.

Al Kauffmann of this city and C. Boehringer of San Francisco returned Tuesday from a two weeks' vacation spent at Yellowstone. They went with a party of Shriners.

FAST DOGS TO RUN FOR A $500 PRIZE

Lombardi Coursing Field to See
Match for Large Stake.

Last Sunday's coursing events at the Lombardi Ranch, San Bruno, resulted in many surprises, particularly Wacconia's win over the fast dog lone. Many believe lone the better dog. To decide the question a special match race has been arranged for next Sunday, in which the two dogs will compete for a purse of $500, two wins out of three courses to decide the match.

The Redwood City champion stake will be run Sunday, and twelve of the fastest dogs have been drawn for the event, including the imported English dog, Martinett, winner of the South San Francisco champion stake last Sunday.

IN WHICH BARNEY GETS TERRIBLE DISAPPOINTMENT

At the witching hour of 2 a. m. Monday morning, at the old safety waiting station, stood a tall, uniformed gentleman, sledge-hammer in hand, whacking away with all his mighty strength to remove the concrete covering the treasure box concealed within the walls. Within the box, together with other souvenirs of the past, snugly reposed a bottle of the real old stuff. Determined to get at the precious fluid, he hammered away until the perspiration flowed freely over his gaudy uniform and the blows of the sledge resounded through the still air for miles around. All the while Sil' Landini stood in hiding behind a near-by fence waiting to pounce down upon the crackman the minute he secured the bottle. At last, becoming exhausted from his vain labor, he threw down the sledge-hammer in despair, to the great disappointment of Landini, who was taking a severe chill from his night vigil and needed a little "shot" to fix him up. As Dr. Rankin remarked: "Poor Barney Hilton got the exercise, even if he didn't get the bottle of 'skee.'"

OLD RELICS FOUND WHEN CEMENT SEAT IS BROKEN

In the course of breaking up the cement waiting station at the "gorc" between Mission and San Jose avenue Thursday morning, the stone jar placed in the "cornerstone" when the station was laid in July of 1911 was discovered. The jar contained some files of old newspapers, some old political cards, a small tin box with two coins placed there by Mrs. Tom Mullen, now Mrs. Charles Anderson, and report has it, a small flask of whisky. All but the last article the newspaper man can vouch for, having inspected them all at the city hall. The flask has disappeared, nobody seemed willing to say where, and its existence was but a rumor.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE KIDS.

The schools will open next Monday, August 16th, and the children of the Jefferson school district will forget joyful vacation days for books and study and marks of excellence.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL FOR SO. S. F. THIS YEAR

Plan in Keeping With Most Advanced Educational Methods to Be Given Tryout Here.

A new departure in school work so far as San Mateo county is concerned will be introduced this year in the schools of South San Francisco, when a junior high school will be organized. To accomplish this, the seventh and eighth grades will be taken into the high school building and be under the instruction of high school teachers. There the pupils in these two grades will have the advantage of departmental instruction, each subject being taught by an expert. It is expected, according to Principal L. E. Adams, that this will be a distinct advantage to the pupils of these grades in many ways, among others giving them the advantage of instruction by older and more experienced teachers and also binding them closer to the high school, giving them an insight into the work of the higher grades, with consequently more chance of the pupil going on into high school, instead of leaving school entirely at the end of the grades.

There will be eleven new faces among the teachers of the grammar and high school in South San Francisco the coming term. There will also be two new instructors added to the faculty of the two schools. The extra teachers will give their time to the seventh and eighth grades.

The kindergarten will be located in the Guild Hall, corner of Grand and Spruce avenues, this year, and parents wishing to enter their children are requested to present them at the Guild Hall at 9 o'clock August 23d, the day school opens. All parents having children to enter in the other grades are also requested to bring them to the proper place at the same day and hour.

Following is a list of the new teachers for the coming term, with the study each will teach. All these are new teachers here this year with the exception of Miss Carolyn Read, who will teach arithmetic at the high school this year. These will be the new faces in the faculty:

High school—Miss Pettit, domestic science and science; Miss Harmon, commercial subjects.

Junior high school—Miss Rose Marie Price, English; Miss Vera Bullwinkel, history and civics; Miss Evelyn Johnson, geography and physiology; Miss Carolyn Read, arithmetic.

For the grades—Mrs. J. E. Stanley and Miss Marie McAuliffe, sixth grade; Miss Myrtle Kiessling, third grade; Miss Laura McLean and Miss Regina Meraglia, second grade; Miss Grace Carlton, first grade; Miss Marian Mendizabal, kindergarten.

RODONDI AND BURLINGAME MAN HAVE COLLISION

Joe Rodondi of South San Francisco and E. F. Garland of Burlingame had a collision with their cars at the corner of Linden and Grand avenues Tuesday afternoon. But little damage was done. The Burlingame man claimed that Rodondi turned out from the curb without signaling.

ANTI-GAMBLING ORDINANCE IS DEMANDED

CITIZENS VOTE UNANIMOUSLY TO DEMAND SUCH MEASURE OF CITY TRUSTEES; MANY GIVE EXPRESSION TO VIEWS.

Anybody who doubts that South San Francisco is stirred up over the charges that gambling is being almost openly carried on in this city should have attended the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the city hall Tuesday night. The room was crowded to its capacity, many standing up after all available seats had been filled. A large proportion of the audience were members of the Woman's Club, which had received an invitation to be present at the meeting. The discussion as to the best means to reach the gamblers stirred eight or ten of those present to mingle in the arguments, while all the others listened with an attention that proved their interest even if the applause with which they greeted telling points in the talks had not.

Among those taking part in the discussion were E. E. Cunningham, Rev. James P. Moran of All Souls' Church, Rev. Daniel Stevens of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Mrs. J. G. Walker, Patrick Bowler, Andrew Hynding, J. G. Walker, J. O. Snyder, W. J. Martin, and P. R. Thompson. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that little could be done to restrict gambling under the present state anti-gambling law, and that therefore the logical step to take was for the city trustees to pass a stringent anti-gambling ordinance for this city, and then to see to it that it was enforced.

A proposal that has been made before with the idea of curbing gambling, namely to pass an ordinance prohibiting locked rooms in the rear of poolrooms and also to have clear glass in all poolroom front windows, that the interiors may at all times be visible from the street, was again suggested. Nearly all the speakers gave their approval to this idea, and it may be embodied in the new anti-gambling ordinance, if such an ordinance is drawn.

The upshot of the meeting was that a motion to have the president of the Chamber of Commerce appoint a committee to wait on the board of city trustees and acquaint these officials that the gathering of citizens had demanded an anti-gambling ordinance, was passed without a dissenting vote. When a standing vote was asked for, the audience rose en masse. President McGovern asked time to make the appointments on this committee.

City Attorney J. W. Coleberd is expected back from his vacation the latter part of this week, and on his return probably at the city trustees' meeting next Monday night, the matter of the anti-gambling ordinance will be taken up with the city officials.

MRS. FRANK KOSTA DIES; FUNERAL FRIDAY MORNING

Mrs. Frank Kosta died in this city Wednesday and was buried from All Souls' Church this morning. Mrs. Kosta was well known here, having lived in this city for about eight years. The circumstances surrounding the young woman's death are especially sad, as she had been married only about a year and leaves a baby girl, born this week. Mass was said at the church at 9 o'clock, with burial at Holy Cross Cemetery.

Mrs. Kosta was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wilson of this city, and besides her parents and baby leaves three sisters, Laura, Anna, and Noel, and one brother, James Wilson.

G. A. BRUCKERMAN OFF ON WELL-EARNED VACATION

J. F. Stahl of San Francisco has been in charge of the South San Francisco postoffice for several days while G. A. Bruckerman, who took charge after Mr. Sink left, is on his vacation. Mr. Sink, who left his post here because of ill health, is now in the hospital with sciatic rheumatism.

LARS PETERSEN PROVES CALUMNIES ARE FALSE

Rumors circulated about town that Lars Petersen of 127 Hillcrest drive has been employed with strike-breaking longshoremen, are false, according to a statement made this week by Mr. Petersen. The Petersen family are old-time residents of Daly City and the rumors have caused them much distress. Mr. Petersen has for fourteen years been a loyal member of the Riggers' and Stevedores' Union, and remained staunch to the cause throughout the recent strike. The following letter explains itself:

To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that the barer, Mr. Lars Petersen, is a member in good standing with the Riggers' and Stevedores' Union, and has at no time performed an act injurious to this union.

Respectfully,
Riggers' and Stevedores' Union.

WILLIAM KENT JR. OUT CAMPAIGNING FOR FATHER

William Kent Jr., son of Congressman William Kent, aspirant for the United States senate, was in town Tuesday campaigning for his father. Young Kent, one of five brothers, is a young man of pleasing personality and a convincing talker. He carries a firm hand-clasp and a grip loaded with campaign literature. He branded as a campaign canard the story that his father had opposed measures in congress favorable to the American Legion, displaying a Legion button on his own lapel and stating that another brother is wearing a similar one.

YUBA CO. CENTRAL COMMITTEE ENDORSES S. M. SHORTRIDGE

Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican candidate for United States senator, has been endorsed by the Yuba county Republican central committee, the fourteenth county committee to take such action. The committee plans an intensive campaign in Shortridge's behalf from now until the primary election August 31st.

"Shortridge is receiving a very general endorsement throughout the state," comments the St. Helena Star in an editorial, which reads as follows:

"Shortridge's candidacy seems to be meeting with genuinely enthusiastic approval, and it should, because Shortridge is in every way worthy of the support of the people, especially of Republicans. Shortridge has been unwavering in his loyalty to the Republican party. While others doubted and were halting, Shortridge ever went forward, giving of his time, his means and his splendid talents without limit.

"Should Samuel M. Shortridge be nominated and elected senator, he will prove an able representative of the people of California. He is a patriotic American and Californian, an indefatigable worker and an orator who has few equals. He will be heard and his voice and influence felt, once given a seat in the United States senate."

CITY TRUSTEES HOLD A LONG MEETING

Large Audience Attends Session That Is Crowded With Many Business Transactions.

A large audience was in attendance when Mayor A. S. W. Grundy called the trustees' meeting to order Wednesday evening.

Mayor Grundy made a very strong appeal to the citizens of San Bruno for their backing. He rounded out his appeal in closing with the following: "I appeal to you, citizens of San Bruno, for your hearty co-operation and above all for fair play." In his speech he told of how the purchase of the municipal water system was brought about. Robert Hayes Smith, former owner of the system, was present and substantiated Mayor Grundy's explanation of the deal.

"Citizens of San Bruno, remember that a majority of you elected the present trustees. Get behind them and boost. Show the other municipalities that San Bruno is alive and on the map. Back up the officials whom you have elected, and, by all means, play fair."

City Attorney John F. Davis reported that he had conferred with the general manager of the United Railroads relative to making more stringent rules regarding the dangerous San Bruno crossing. His report indicated that the railway company wants to co-operate with this city in every way possible. The public must remember that no matter how careful the railways may be, the public must also be "up on its toes" when crossing any and all street car and railroad tracks. He also reported progress in the Hensley matter.

Marshal Wedel recommended that a shack on the Belgrano property be torn down. The board ordered this done. He also recommended that the city have a white line painted in the middle of the highway at Uncle Tom's Cabin and at San Bruno crossing, in order that autoists may be forced to keep to the right of the road. He also recommended the painting of lines across the highway wherever the school children have to cross. These recommendations were approved and ordered done.

A point was raised about keeping animals for breeding purposes within the city limits. Such an act was classed as a public nuisance and violators will be dealt with severely.

A permit to move a small outbuilding was granted to Mrs. F. Trenkner of Huntington Park.

A permit was granted to Mrs. Robb of Third addition to put a new roof on her home and also to make alterations.

A motion was passed which instructed the board of health to investigate every permit and see that all plumbing, etc., is put in with due regard to the standing ordinances.

The board of public works, through Commissioner J. T. O'Connor, was instructed to investigate the request of Mr. Bedford of Fourth addition for a permit to alter and rebuild his present dwelling.

Lighting Commissioner Patrick Kane's recommendation for the installation of lights in Belle Air and Huntington and the retention of all present lights was approved.

Fire Commissioner Kane spoke at length regarding the remodeling of the present firehouse. The trustees decided to meet with a committee of five firemen at the city hall Friday evening, August 13th.

Commissioner of Health Harry Palmer reported the receipt of a communication from the United Railroads, stating that they would continue to do their utmost to keep the car station in a sanitary condition.

Several claims were presented and ordered paid.

The ordinance regulating licenses on pool halls and rooms passed another reading.

City Engineer Kneese's report was read and accepted. His report dealt with the purchase and development of the municipal water system, and covered the assessment roll. The average cost to the private home owner, according to this report, will be $5.36 per lot, which is very low in the face of present high prices.

A resolution establishing grades of streets intersecting El Camino Real was adopted and passed.

A resolution calling for the renaming of strips of land along Frest Lane and Huntington avenue, deeded to the city by the United Railroads, was passed.

A resolution accepting plans and specifications for paving streets of San Bruno Park was adopted.

A resolution of intention, calling for the laying of sidewalks, curbs gutters and the paving of streets in portions of Third addition and all of San Bruno and San Bruno Park, was passed.

Under general business, Marshal Wedel was instructed to report whether or not the shack in Fourth addition was being used for a habitation. His report goes to the board of health. A resident of Fifth addition and a property owner in Fourth addition requested that the trustees do something in regards to securing an outlet for Cypress avenue to the Crystal Springs road. This was referred to the public works commissioner.

Mrs. Rose of Third addition registered a complaint about weeds growing all over the sidewalks. The matter was referred to Commissioner O'Connor.

Mayor Grundy urged that the residents of Belle Air get together and have the weeds, which cover the sidewalks in many places, removed.

It was nearly 12 o'clock when the meeting adjourned.

FIREMEN WIN GAME FROM SAN FRANCISCO TEAM

The San Bruno firemen won a ball game for a change Sunday, and showed that they appreciated the dance given for their benefit the night before.

Their opponents were the Potrero Federals, whom they easily defeated by the score of 3 to 2. Hodson pitched his usual steady game, with the exception of the second. On the whole the game was well played, there being fewer errors than have appeared in the last few games.

Many men have a soft spot in their hearts for humanity—until they are asked to foot the bill.

Here are two important extremes of life. A good reputation is hard to make and easy to lose, while a bad one is easy to make and hard to lose.

THE CITIZENS SPEAK.

When the people speak their representatives in office, whether national, state, county, or local, should heed and obey. The holders of any public office are elected to that office to carry out, not the will of themselves and their associates, but the will of the constituents who elected them. That is the basic principle of republican government.

At the city hall Tuesday night a large gathering of citizens of South San Francisco spoke their will emphatically on the subject of gambling as it affects this city. That will was that it should stop, and that those in a position to take action in the matter should see to it that it does stop. Without a dissenting voice the gathering voted in favor of stringent anti-gambling measures in this city. This demand of those who elected them to office will be conveyed to the city trustees within a few days, and if they are conscientious in their aims and efforts, conscientious in their desires to represent the citizens of this city, the ordinance asked for will be placed upon the ordinance book of South San Francisco. Having, then, the weapon with which to work, there should be no hesitancy and no delay in closing every poolroom or other place in this city which persists in allowing gambling on its premises.

There is one side of the gambling problem, too, that should get under the skin of anybody who is interested in the business welfare of the city, but indifferent to its morals. The other day an official of a city not many miles away, walking down the street in South San Francisco, saw a crap game in full blast on the sidewalk in front of one of the poolrooms in broad daylight. In astonishment he demanded to know if this were a "wide-open" town. And the person of whom the demand was made could return only a half-hearted denial. A reputation for good moral conditions is an estimable asset to a city. No parents will willingly bring a family containing young people to live in a town where moral conditions are bad. The good name of this city as a business asset is something that the gamblers, parasites, and leeches on the body social and politic care nothing at all about, but it is a subject that must appeal to every business man in town who is too thick-skinned to be affected by the moral aspects of the matter. South San Francisco must go forward and nobody, be he gambler or whatever his method of making a living may be, should be allowed to stand for an instant in its way.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT.

Two young men met on the street. One lived in town, the other was from a near-by village. A pretty girl came by. The town boy sized her up and made a suggestive remark. They both looked, laughed, and looked again. Another girl passed, with a careless look in their direction but without speaking. The town boy was silent, but he from the village appraised her charms, expressed his opinion, and—the fight was on.

It makes a difference whose sister you talk about.

O O O O

A citizen met the editor of a paper on the street. "Why don't you publish the news?" he demanded. "Young J. got into a brawl and beat another boy up and you didn't say a word about it. Such things should be given full publicity in order to suppress rowdyism." A few weeks later his own son was rounded up in a juvenile scrape, and he hunted the editor in a hurry.

"Don't say anything in the paper about that little escapade of the boy's," he pleaded; "it was only a lark, and boys will be boys, you know."

It makes a difference whose boy is involved.

O O O O

A farmer had a horse to sell. It had a serious defect, but one not readily discernible. Another fellow who was in need of a good horse stopped to look at it.

"Sound as a dollar, so far as I know," said the farmer, conveniently forgetting the defect he knew to exist. The animal changed hands, and the purchaser was stung. A few months later the same farmer went to a neighboring county and paid a fancy price for a bull. Later he found that he had been stung in the transaction.

"I'll have the law on that swindler," he raged, and promptly brought suit against the former owner of the bull.

It makes a difference whether you sting or get stung.

O O O O

"Hello, John, heard the news? The school teacher has just licked the tar out of an unruly pupil, and everybody is talking about it—says he should have whipped him long ago."

"Good enough—I hope he laid it on good and heavy. Boys are getting to be smarter than their parents, and it is time for them to be taught their proper place."

"It's fine of you to look at it that way, John—it was your own boy he licked," commended the first speaker.

"What's that? Whipped my boy, did he? I'll smash his infernal face for him, I will. No upstart of a teacher can lay hands on my boy and get away with it."

It makes a difference who gets the licking.

O O O O

A young lady had numerous admirers, and caused each to believe that he was the favored one. Each in time proposed, and was strung along with half promises. The young men dropped onto her game, quietly faded away, and left her without a single admirer, other young men having been told of her duplicity.

"Men are fickle and the worst deceivers ever, and I hate them all," she wailed in her loneliness. "The idea of all those men proposing to me and then leaving like that! Men have no honor at all."

It makes a difference who does the deceiving.

There are 60,000 Reds listed in the United States, all individually, collectively, solidly and eternally against the government. As a thrifty means of busting up this nest of hornets we suggest that they be collected together, parceled out to our farmers, and compelled to till the soil for the benefit of those who believe in law, order and American institutions. This should be done under court sentence, in the form of punishment, and no wage should be paid them. It would break up this organization of traitors to the mouth that feeds them, and might eventually make decent citizens of a few of them.

Now be are biffed squarely between the eyes with the startling intelligence that the new Paris gowns are entirely waistless. Fie, fie, sisters! What next? We poor men are suffering agonies from eye strain as it is, and we simply can not survive any more alopathic doses. We shudder with indescribable terror at the approach of the next scream of fashion—which, we fear, will even be skirtless.

If, as they claim, that Indiana healer can effect radical cures by the simple process of laying on of hands, we suggest that he give immediate attention to our crop of grasping profiteers. They can all stand a liberal application from both hands.

The American government and private bankers have extended credits to European countries amounting to about eighteen billion dollars. And congress says it doesn't know how it is going to raise the money to pay a small bonus to our former service men.

PASSES FINAL EXAMINATION.

Theodore Rossi, formerly assistant at Jennings' pathological laboratories, has passed his final pharmaceutical examinations with high honors. Ted, who was very popular among the young ladies of South San Francisco, will now have more time to devote to old acquaintances. Mr. Rossi is a brother-in-law of J. J. Jennings and is manager of the Quaker Drug Company.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

CANNING WITHOUT SUGAR.

Is it possible to can fruits successfully without sugar and, if so, what is the best method, are questions asked nowadays by many housewives in view of the scarcity and high price of sugar. Sometimes fruits needed to make the diet more palatable and varied during the winter have gone to waste because sugar was not available for canning when they were ripe. Such waste can be prevented; for, according to the experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, apples somewhat underripe, also gooseberries, raspberries, blueberries, and other berries, and sweet varieties of plums and cherries may all be canned in their own juices without the addition of sugar. In fact, many housewives think that the flavor of many fruits canned without sugar and sweetened just before using is better and more like that of fresh fruit than when canned with large quantities of sugar or in a heavy syrup. If the fruit is very sour or is canned in large pieces, heating for a few minutes when adding the sugar before serving will make it penetrate the fruit more thoroughly and evenly.

Fruits may be canned in their own juices without the addition of any sweetening in at least three ways:

A simple method of canning, especially good for such soft, juicy fruits as berries, is as follows: Pack the washed fruit into the jar and, without adding any liquid of any kind, process the fruit in the customary way for the usual period, or perhaps four or five minutes longer. The processing draws the juice from the fruit, and the canned product often has an even better flavor than when syrup is added.

Another way of canning fruit without sugar is to cook the ripest fruits over moderate heat until the juice is drawn from them, adding no water unless necessary and in any case only a very little. Drain the juice from the fruit through a jelly bag, bring this juice to the boil, and use it like boiling syrup to fill the jars into which the firmer fruit has been packed. Then process the jars of fruit in the usual way.

Still Another Method

Still another method is to cook the fruit to a sauce of the desired consistency in an open kettle, and, without adding any sugar, pour it into jars scalded in the following way: Cover the jars, tops, and rubbers with boiling water, remove them from the water one at a time as needed, being careful not to touch or wipe the jars inside, pour in the fruit while boiling hot, and seal each jar at once. This method is not so uniformly successful as when the fruit is cooked in the jar, because it is difficult to prevent bacteria and molds from getting into the fruit and the jar while they are being filled and sealed. Many housekeepers, however, can acid fruits and tomatoes in this way successfully year after year.

FOODSTUFFS MAY BE DRIED BY SUN OR ARTIFICIAL HEAT

Wherever climatic conditions make it possible, sun-drying is the least expensive method of preserving foodstuffs. Successful sun-drying demands a rainless season of bright sunshine and high temperature, and the extent to which it can be carried on in any district is determined by the length of the rainless midsummer and autumn period. Ideal conditions for sun-drying all fruits, both early and late, are found in the interior districts of California, where sun-drying has become an industry of large proportions, and throughout the southwest. In the intermountain region of the northwestern states, over the larger part of the great plains area, and in all but the coastal portions of the southern states, the sun-drying of such early maturing fruits as berries, cherries, apricots, and peaches is everywhere possible. In much of this territory warm, rainless weather usually continues sufficiently far into the autumn to permit sun-drying of such late-maturing fruits as apples, pears and plums, as well as of such vegetables as sweet corn, pumpkin, and squash. Outside these areas and in any region in which the late summer and early autumn are characterized by frequent rainfall or periods of low temperature and high humidity, it will not be wise to depend wholly upon sun-drying, as a few days of rainy weather may cause the loss of a large amount of valuable material, specialists in United States Department of Agriculture say.

As ordinarily conducted, sun-drying in the open air has the disadvantage that the drying material is exposed to a considerable length of time to the visits of insects which deposit their eggs in it and also to dust borne by air currents. Insects may be excluded by providing the trays in which the material is dried with covers of mosquito netting tacked tightly in place over the top, but such covers do not wholly prevent the entrance of dust. Both dust and insects are excluded if a glass-covered solar drier is employed, and a device of this character should be used in any district in which high winds carrying much dust prevail during the drying season.

If artificial heat is used, the work is independent of weather conditions, and it is possible to dry a considerable number of foodstuffs which ordinarily cannot be dried in the sun; for example, winter varieties of apples, prunes, and such vegetables as potatoes and carrots. It has the disadvantage of requiring close supervision in order that overheating and subsequent injury to the material may be avoided, but if the work is properly done the products will retain their natural appearance and flavor to a greater degree than it is possible in sun-drying. The process is more expensive than sun-drying, since an evaporator must be constructed or purchased and a supply of fuel provided. For the individual family the investment represented by the evaporator need not be a burden; any one who can use ordinary tools can construct in spare time and with a trifling outlay for material a cook-stove drier, while the heat of the stove or range employed for cooking can be utilized for operating the drier. If this home-made equipment is properly constructed it is quite as efficient as the similar small drier sold on the market at several times its cost.

"Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven"

Inside the great brass statue of Moloch a roaring fire was built on holy days.

And into the seething arms of the pitiless god mothers hurled their screaming infants.

In the South Sea Islands, when either parent died, the children were slain and buried also, to wait the parent in the other world.

In China the girl babies were drowned; in Greece they were exposed upon the bleak and bitter mountainsides.

And even Socrates, the greatest of the Greeks, saw nothing in the practise to condemn.

Thus the ancient heathen world treated its babies.

Who was it that changed the world's thought about children? Who made them the most important citizens of the world?

Jesus of Nazareth. It was He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

He gave them the proud privilege of being His friends.

In every age His Church has been the champion of childhood. Dathus, a Christian Bishop, founded the first orphan asylum. All the laws for the protection of children have their roots and their security in His Church.

A HISTORY

THE STORY OF THE POSTOFFICE.

The windy summer of 1892 was succeeded by an unusually stormy winter. The greatest windstorm this city has ever known occurred in the winter of 1892 and '93. It came at night and wrecked several small buildings, but its greatest prank was played on the Central Hotel. This was a two-story frame building substantially constructed, just finished but not occupied. It stood 20 feet in height and 107 feet in length, its broad side facing south, in the teeth of the windstorm. When morning came, it was found that the building had been moved bodily from its foundation about three feet to the north, but without serious injury to the structure.

The year 1892 was a great year in the life of this city, and before closing the door upon it in these reminiscences a brief statement of the first twenty-four years of local postoffice history may be a fitting final to that old year that had witnessed the beginning of postal service and of social, civil, and political life.

About April 1, 1892, the postmaster-general under President Benjamin Harrison established a postoffice of the fourth class at South San Francisco, to be known as the "South San Francisco Postoffice," and appointed E. E. Cunningham, a civil war veteran and a resident of the new city, postmaster. On April 11, 1892, George L. Seyboldt, inspector in charge for the district, came from San Francisco and gave Mr. Cunningham instructions regarding his duties and his work as postmaster, and thereupon the South San Francisco postoffice was duly opened for business April 11, 1892. Mr. Cunningham served the people of South San Francisco as postmaster for over twenty-four years, to be exact, from the 11th day of April, 1892, to July 5, 1916. His first appointment was made under President Benjamin Harrison, and he was re-appointed under Presidents Grover Cleveland and William McKinley and by Presidents Theodore Roosevelt and W. H. Taft. During all these twenty-four years there were only two assistant postmasters, Mrs. I. F. Cunningham (wife of the postmaster), from 1892 to 1902, and Fred A. Cunningham from 1902 to 1916. The postoffice clerks during the above period, in the course of their appointment, were: C. E. Crocker, C. L. Kauffmann, Mary McDonald (now Mrs. Eschelbach), A. E. Eschelbach, and E. N. Fourcans. During these twenty-four years the postoffice hours were 7 a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m., except Sundays and legal holidays. On Sundays and legal holidays the office was open from 8 to 9 o'clock a. m. The postmaster had only two vacations during his twenty-four years' service, one, of one week, to visit Yosemite Valley, and another, of six days, to attend the presidential postmasters' convention in 1914 at Del Monte.

The South San Francisco postoffice was made a money order office in July, 1893, and the first money order was issued to Daniel Krause in the sum of 65 cents. On November 10, 1894, the postoffice was removed from its original location, corner of Miller and San Bruno avenues, to the southeast corner of Grand and Linden avenues, and from this last-named corner it was removed April 1, 1915, to its present location, 217 Linden avenue, where it is to remain under a ten years' lease with the United States Postoffice Department.

January 1, 1895, the postoffice was made an international money order office, and the first international money order was issued to E. N. Brawn, payable in Ireland.

April 1, 1907, the postoffice was raised from the fourth to the third class.

October 14, 1911, the postoffice was made a postal savings deposit office, and the first account was opened by Louis Wagonette, with a deposit of $1. July 5, 1916, there were sixty-three depositors, with deposits of $10,846. January 1, 1913, the office was made a parcel post office, and the parcels post rapidly developed a large business.

April 1, 1895, the name of the postoffice was changed from "South San Francisco" to "Baden." This change of name was made by the Postoffice Department at the instance of the people of a district of San Francisco, who complained that mail matter intended for people of that portion of San Francisco was frequently sent to the South San Francisco postoffice in San Mateo county, and thereby delayed in its delivery. It was found, however, after the change of the name of this postoffice to Baden, the mail of these residents of the "Butchertown" district of San Francisco continued coming to this postoffice, and that changing the name of this office to Baden had complicated instead of clearing up postal affairs, and on December 14, 1897, the name of this postoffice was again changed and the original name of South San Francisco was restored, a name to which it was entitled, and which it retained until the postoffice of South San Francisco was for postal purposes arbitrarily annexed to the city of San Francisco and this postoffice became the "South San Francisco Branch" of the San Francisco postoffice, with Charles W. Fay as postmaster.

The postoffice is in much closer touch with the daily life of the people than is any other branch of government, and inasmuch as its business is solely the business of the people who are its patrons, it would seem only reasonable to expect, under a government of the people, that the people would have a direct and directing voice in local postoffice matters and management; but as a matter of fact, the people of South San Francisco have been entirely ignored by the present national administration in local postoffice affairs. First, by the appointment of a postmaster in opposition to their expressed will; second, by the discontinuance of the South San Francisco postoffice and its arbitrary consolidation as a branch of the San Francisco postoffice, without consulting either the wishes or interests of the people of this city.

How Many Homes Have You Paid For?

And how many homes do you own today? Recently a man came into our office that had decided years ago to apply his rent money toward the payment of a house. He soon rented the house to another fellow and his rent paid the balance on the house. He bought himself another one and another one, until today he owns several homes and has quit work. The rent money he now collects means a substantial income to him. The future is sure, bright and smiling for his wife and children.

Rent day never comes around to the man who owns his own Home.

A deed to your home is the best form of life insurance you can have.

We will build you a house to order, exactly as you plan it and upon a lot that suits your ideas. A small payment down and your rent money will pay for it. The man who owns his own home not only saves rent but makes money on the increased value in his property.

Keep It Up.

One step won't take you very far, You've got to keep on walking; One word won't tell folks what you are, You've got to keep on talking; One inch won't make you very tall, You've got to keep on growing; One little "ad" won't do it all, You've got to keep 'em going.

"Henry, what three foods are needed to keep the body in health?"

Henry reddened, gulped convulsively, and then blurted out:

"Breakfus', dinner an' supper!"
